TERMS OF REFERENCE

Procurement of a service provider to render logistical and documentation support to facilitate learning of technologies that could help improve farmers’ yield in the RCEF target areas

I. RATIONALE

- Based on the latest survey conducted by DA-PhilRice in the RCEF target sites, adoption of high seeding rate (more than 60kg/ha) was observed in 20 direct-seeded provinces.
- 114 municipalities in the RCEF target areas have been found to be low-to medium yielding; hence, the need for intervention to boost their yield. Experts suggest that nutrient management is critical in increasing yield.

- For farmers to adopt a particular technology, they need to be motivated. Factors affecting behavioral motivation include: output expectancy, influence by others, self efficacy, and access to the technology.
- Campaigns will be conducted to promote these behavioral triggers towards the adoption of high-yielding and cost-reducing rice farming technologies. Restrictions due to the COVID-19 pandemic, however, have been seen to hamper the successful implementation of the campaigns. Hence, a third party company will be tapped to provide logistical, documentation, and ground level operation support.
- Part of their contract is to distribute appropriate rice technologies to enhance learning among the target beneficiaries. This is in response to the feedback we gathered that for farmers to fully appreciate the technologies taught to them through the RCEF extension interventions such as training and communication, they need to have access and try the technologies themselves.
